

PINARAYI, not VS, to be Kerala CM

Achuthanandan is Kerala Castro, says Yechury

VR JAYARAJ ■ KOCHI

A landslide victory in the Assembly election in Kerala, from leader CPI(M) on Friday declared Politburo member Pinarayi Vijayan, 72, as the new Chief Minister of Kerala and 'elevated' VS Achuthanandan, 92, who had led the Left into the thundering victory through a long and arduous campaign, to the position of the party's 'guide and inspirer'.

"The party's State secretariat and committee discussed the matter in detail and considered the issue of Comrade Achuthanandan's age and health... The party has come to a decision unanimously to make Pinarayi Vijayan our parliamentary party leader," said CPI(M) general secretary Sitaram Yechury in Thiruvananthapuram on Friday evening.

Asked about what role Achuthanandan would now play, Yechury said, "Achuthanandan is like Fidel Castro of Kerala. He will guide and inspire the party (as Castro has been doing in Cuba). Like they say in English, Achuthanandan is a war horse who led the Left's campaigning in the election from the front," he added.

Yechury made the announcement in a Press conference in which Achuthanandan and State CPI(M) secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan also participated. Yechury and other Central leaders Prakash Karat and S Ramachandran Pillai had participated in the meetings of the State secretariat and committee which took the decision.

The announcement and the cool response to it from Achuthanandan put an end to speculations about the possibility of the veteran raising the flag of mutiny in the party when the name of Pinarayi, his bête noire, was proposed to the top position. Achuthanandan was Chief Minister between 2006 and 2011 and Opposition Leader in the outgoing Assembly.

A former CPI(M) theorist known as a loyalist of Achuthanandan asked in half-humour, "Is it an age difference of 20 years which is the highest determinant in matters of Government formation? Why was this no problem when VS was leading the campaign? Didn't they know at that time that VS was 92?"

The CPI(M)-led LDF has swept into power in the State by winning 91 seats out of the total 140 and reducing the Congress-led UDF to just 47 seats. The CPI(M) alone bagged 63 seats and its closest ally CPI 19 while the Congress tally was confined to a mere 22. The election had also seen the decimation in the State of at least three parties including the RSP and JD-U.

Unlike in the earlier polls, Achuthanandan and Pinarayi were in the fray in this election. The veteran won the Malampuzha seat in Palakkad district for the fourth time by a margin of 27,142 votes while Pinarayi emerged victor in his home constituency Dharmadam in Kannur district by 36,905 votes.

According to CPI(M) sources, the State party secretariat on Friday morning decided to make Pinarayi the CM "almost unanimously" and the report on this was put in the State committee meeting held later in the presence of Achuthanandan whom Yechury had invited to it. It is said that Achuthanandan raised no protest.

However, one report said that Achuthanandan had in a private discussion with Yechury wanted to be the CM for "some time" so that he could take the issues of corruption of the outgoing Government, which he had made the main plank of the campaign, to their logical conclusion. However, there was no favourable response to this, it is said.

Sources also suggested that the party's debacle in the West Bengal election which it had fought in the company of the Congress in violation of, according to Kerala leaders, the decision taken at the CPI(M)'s Visakhapatnam congress, had made the position of Yechury, who has always been a supporter of Achuthanandan, so weak that he could not argue for him.

BJP MAN SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

Thiruvananthapuram: Less than a day of the CPI(M)-led LDF winning the Kerala Assembly election, a BJP activist on Friday succumbed to the injuries he had suffered in an attack allegedly by Marxists in an incident of post-poll violence. BJP activist V Pramod (33) of Edavilangu was attacked at Kunneni in Thiruvananthapuram district during the celebrations of victory of the LDF candidate in the Kaipaman-galam constituency on Thursday. He breathed his last in a private hospital in Thiruvananthapuram by noon Friday. According to BJP leaders, the assailants had reached the spot in a vehicle and attacked Pramod in the head with bricks. He was first taken to a hospital in Kodungallur in a serious condition. He was then taken to an Irinjilakkuda hospital and finally to a speciality hospital in Thiruvananthapuram where he succumbed to the injuries. PMS

BJP's Chief Ministerial candidate, Sarbananda Sonowal will take oath as Assam's new Chief Minister on Tuesday at a glittering function to be attended by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, BJP national president Amit Shah, besides other senior BJP leaders and Central Ministers even as Assam Chief Minister Tarun Gogoi tendered his resignation to the Assam Governor PB Acharya on Friday evening.

The new Chief Minister will take oath of office and secrecy along with the council of Ministers during the function, said BJP leader and former Assam Health and Education Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma. Sarma said that it is not decided yet as to how many Ministers will be inducted in the Cabinet.

Besides the Prime Minister and BJP national president, we have invited several other senior BJP leaders and Union Ministers for the function. We have also invited the Chief Ministers of the northeastern States and the Chief Ministers of NDA ruled States are also expected to participate in the function, which will be held at Veterinary College ground at Khanapara in Guwahati.

Sarma said that the elected members of the BJP will elect Sonowal as the BJP Legislature Party leader during a meeting on Sunday. "Following this there will be another meeting with the elected members of our alliance partners on Monday. Tuesday evening, Sonowal and the council of Minister will take the oath of office and secrecy," said Sarma.

Meanwhile, Assam Chief Minister Tarun Gogoi met Assam Governor PB Acharya at the Raj Bhavan here and tendered his resignation. Prior to this, Gogoi held the last Cabinet meeting at his official residence at Koinadhara, where most of the Ministers submitted their resignation to the Chief Minister.

The Congress, who had been in power in Assam for three consecutive terms since 2001, could only stand second in the April polls by securing 26 seats compared to the 60 seats of the BJP.

Gogoi had earlier admitted the defeat and said that the Congress will play the role of a constructive Opposition in the Assam Legislative Assembly.

Chandy quits, offers 'creative' support to new Government

VR JAYARAJ ■ KOCHI

A day after his Congress party and the UDF alliance suffered a shocking defeat in the State Assembly election, Oommen Chandy on Friday resigned as the Kerala Chief Minister and owned up "the main responsibility" for the defeat.

After submitting the letter of resignation to Governor P Sathasivam at the Raj Bhavan in Thiruvananthapuram on Friday morning, Chandy said that poll setback was a "temporary phenomenon" and that the Congress and the UDF would make a strong comeback soon. He also offered "creative support" to the new Government to be formed by the CPI(M)-led LDF.

"The Congress party and the UDF have responsibility in the defeat. As chairman of the UDF and as the person who was in the lead, I have greater responsibility for that," Chandy told newsmen while coming out of the Raj Bhavan after meeting the Governor adding, however, that he had not expected such a huge defeat in the election.

'Party's debacle due to BJP's false propaganda'

ANUP SHARMA ■ GUWAHATI

A day after the party's debacle in the elections, Rajya Sabha MP and vice-president of the Assam Pradesh Congress Committee (APCC) Ripun Bora has blamed the false propaganda spread by the BJP and its allies as responsible for the ruling party's debacle in the State.

A former Assam Minister, Bora said that the BJP and its allies had spread a false propaganda ahead of the polls that the people of Assam will lose their identity if the Congress comes to power, which is the main reason for the party's poor performance.

"The false propaganda that the 'identity of the Assamese people are threatened under the Congress rule' polarised the voters across the State in large numbers to the advantage of the BJP and its allies. This is the main reason of Congress' debacle," said Bora while adding that the BJP has also cashed in by giving false hope of giving Government jobs to the unemployed youth of the State.

Bora, however, said that although the Congress had lost seats the party's vote share has increased in the State. "In the Lok Sabha polls of 2014, the Congress' vote share was 29.6 percent. However, the party's vote share in the just concluded elections is 31.1 percent. On the other hand the BJP's vote share in the 2014 Lok Sabha polls was 36.5 percent, which has reduced by 7 percent in this election," Bora pointed out.

He said that the party will introspect and find out the factors that mattered in the polls and will surely make a comeback in 2019 Lok Sabha polls.

Didi re-elected TMC Legislature Party chief

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

A day after the party stormed back to power the Trinamool Congress MLAs on Friday re-elected Mamata Banerjee as its Legislative Party leader. Soon after, Banerjee met Governor KN Tripathi with the claim to form the Government.

The TMC chief who fought back a host of anti-incumbency factors — including corruption, deteriorating law and order situation, rise in syndicate raj, flight of industry and drop in employment rate — to return with a record 211 seats for her party, asked the elected members to "concentrate on your work, do not allow power to go to your head and get alienated from the people."

and BJP got 33, 44 and 3 seats respectively. The Chief Minister would once again break the tradition and take oath next Friday at Red Road instead of Raj Bhavan, party sources said.

"She wants the people to savour the occasion and be a part of the oath-taking. So she has broken the tradition of taking oath at Raj Bhavan. At Red Road thousands of people can witness her taking oath," a senior party leader said.

Meanwhile, at least three people died and many others including half-a-dozen policemen injured as post-counting violence spread in wider areas of the State, police said adding incidents of violence and looting had been reported from at least 70 places.

While one Trinamool worker was shot dead at Purulia by alleged Congress men two others were killed at Birbhum and South 24 Parganas.

Two persons received bullet injuries at Nanour in Birbhum. In relentless incidents of violence mostly perpetrated by alleged Trinamool men Opposition party offices were attacked, looted set on fire at places like Haldia, Salboni, Jhargram, Purulia, Pandua, Chinsurah, Chandannagar, Khanakul, Jangipara, Nimta, Birati, Basirhat, Dum Dum, Sobhabazar, Kashipur, Rajarhaat, Panchasayar.

the leader of the legislature party. Jayalalithaa did not take part in the meeting.

E Madhusoodanan, the president chairman of the party and Thambi Durai, Deputy Speaker, Lok Sabha, called on Jayalalithaa at Veda Nilayam, her residence at Poes Garden and handed over the letter electing her as the leader of the legislature party. Jayalalithaa will call on the Governor either on Saturday or Sunday to stake her claims to form the next Government. Earlier, in the day, Jayalalithaa issued a statement thanking the people of Tamil Nadu for the trust and love bestowed on her by them. "The Assembly results prove that I always stand by the side of the people and vice-versa. As my mark of respect to the people of Tamil Nadu, I assure you that I will work with new vigour for the welfare of the people of Tamil Nadu," Jayalalithaa said in her statement.

Jayalalithaa said that the DMK had indulged in various campaign through various modes. "Karunanidhi and his party threw imaginary allegations on my Government. But the people proved that they could not be cheated by such falsehoods," said the AIADMK General Secretary.
